Mrs. Higbee,

Thanks for all you've done in helping me in English this year. I will never forget the things you have taught me (especially Verboten) not only in English but about life and people as well. You are an excellent teacher and a wonderful lady. I wish you the best in your endeavors through your life and hope you find success.

Thanks again!

My love and all my best,

EDDAS 82-83 VOL. 19

Long ago a great council was held among the Viking Gods. They wanted the year nineteen hundred eighty three to be remembered through time as the great year of the Vikings.

Through the summer preparations were made for the up coming year. Practices were held by the band, colorguard, dance co., cheerleaders, and drill team for parades or performances. Sport clinics were held for football, basketball, volleyball, waterpolo, and many more.

As the halls of Asgard (dwelling place of the Gods) became full once more, excitement surged through the blood of every God, Goddess, Vanir (secondary Gods) and Hero. With knowledge, talent, and skill, they fight their way to the top, and came up the victor time after time.

Sophomore Class Committee - Only Time Will Tell

The long awaited Friday finally arrived. Skits from previous years were presented during the assembly, and a lot of creative floats were entered in the parade, with the first place of $50 going to the sophomore class.

The game against Bountiful was even better then expected. The mighty Vikes destroyed the Braves 20-0. The first touchdown will long be remembered as Bountiful's punt went over the kickers head and into our end zone where Sean Salmon fell on the ball and gave us 6 points. The halftime was presented by the band, colorguard, and vykettes.

Homecoming 1982 was one of the greatest in the history of Viewmont. Things got off to a fanfantastic start and everything ran as smooth as possible. After school on Monday the halls were ramsacked and left with crepe paper, signs, and poster paper hanging from their ceilings and walls.

The junior and senior girls once again suited up in pads and helmets for the annual powder puff game. Due to difficulties on the side of Bountiful's varsity coaches, the lady vikes had to settle for the wildcat women. But they didn't seem to ming as they shut them out 28-0.

Thursday after school the senior class headed up to the "V" for the whitewashing. After hours of sliding down the mountain, the "V" was once again shining in all its glory of fresh white paint (not to mention most of the senior class). That night everyone met in the gym for a short pep rally and then to the bon-fire and lightingh of the "V". Something new was tried this year with David Blauer, the mascot, riding in on a galliant stallion to throw the torch onto the wood.

The Halloween Girls' Dance was held on the 30th of October in the VHS gym. The dance was sponsored by the FFA with the theme being "Haunted Hollow". The gym was decorated with bundles of corn stalks, pumpkins and hay blocks. The group was a disc jockey who played records for the dance. Couples came as his & hers to costumes to casual. Most couples responded to the dance as a success except for the pictures. Only one camera was useable, which resulted in long and tedious lines. Many couples went without getting pictures. There was still a line when the dance ended and the lights came on. That was the major complaint made by many.

On December 4, the annual girls Christmas Dance was held in our gym. The dance was sponsored by the FHA and proved to be a great success. The theme was "An Old Fashioned Christmas." The members and officers stayed until 1:30 decorating the gym for a memorable event. A sleigh filled with toys and presents sat in the center of the floor with other decorations surrounding the dancers. The royalty for the dance were Brian Fuller and Julie Rasmussen, Daryl Price and Nikki Boss, Lowell Knighton and Carolyn Gill. Music was performed by Rain Tree. Many couples went tubing after the dance to top off an excitment filled evening.

"Up Where We Belong," was the theme of the 1982-83 Senior Ball. It was held in the Marriot Hotel on January 29th. The theme song was sung by Joey Smith and Tana Peterson at the senior assembly and at the dance. Everyone seemed as if they enjoyed themselves as the guys and their dates covered the floor. The royalty for this years ball was Kia Fadel, as queen, and Kevin Smith, as King.

The six attendants were Glen Martin-Tisha Vowels, Dave Larson-Julie Reeve, Steve Cullimore-Linda Hancey. They added to the excitement of the evening as they danced together while the theme song was being sung.

The senior class committee made this years Senior Ball a success as well as the senior week activities, which included a drawing for records, gift certificates, etc., to a special lunch for all seniors. "Murder by Death" was played Tuesday, and a skiing party was held Thursday night.

Jr. Prom 83

The Sophomore Girls Dance was held on the 18th of March. It was sponsored by the Sophomore Class, and was under the direction of the Sophomore Class Officers and Committee. The theme for the dance was "Safari" and the theme song was, "Africa" by Toto. Tickets were $5.00 in advance and $6.00 at the door. The dance lasted from eight until eleven that evening. This was the first dance of the year to be held on a friday night and it seemed to be a great success as a large amount of the studentbody attended. It was also the last girls dance of the year.

Couples had the idea of going as Tarzan and Jane, as Jungle animals, all the way down to the boring idea of matching shirts. The sophomore class picked the royalty for that evening with Keith Larson and Lisa Smart as King and Queen, Bryan Hardy and Melissa George as First Attendents, and Brad Thompson and Jenny Miller as Second Attendents.

Unknown Viking bites the dust after gaining several yards against West.

The football team was senior orriented this year. Our record overall was 7-4, 2nd place in Region IV, and 1-1 in the play-offs. Our loss in the state play-offs was in the quarter-finals against Brighton 17-14. Brighton went on to take the state championship. We had achieved most of the goals that were set for the year. Hopefully this will help our younger players to know what it takes, and how hard the team has to work to be #1. Even though the Swim Team came out of the pool with stringy and shiny hair and smelling of clorine, they have represented Viewmont more proudly than the football, basketball or the baseball teams combined. Mildly humiliating all the competition in the Northern Utah championships, held this January, they went on to rout the competition, taking first in the region 4 district. The team then attended the 4A state championships, from which they once again arose victorious after subduing the former state champs by more than 40 points. Many team members proceeded to represent Utah in the Western U.S.A. regional finals held in Montana where the team placed third in the overall standings. Captains for the teams were, for the boys. Brad Williams and Derek Newman, for the girls, Dale Ann Fisher and Kia Fadal. Congratulations swim team!!

Coach gives his team a pep talk on the upcoming meet

Endurance, strength, and stamina were the qualities that made the girls' track team a great team this year. The girls participated in such events as high jumping, long jumping, shot put, and running relays. Being at school early and staying after to work out is what led to great team spirit and team, as well as individual, victories. The coaches were always at the meets cheering and advising the team with their support. This year was a great experience for the members of the girls track team.

High jump, sprinting, javelin throw, shot put, discus, broad jump, relays, and distance runs were the events participated in by the Viking Track teams.

Track events tested the agility, endurance and precision of the athletes who strove to break the old records and set new ones. Upon Viewmonts track, the runners prepared themselves for strenuous races; and on the football field the athletes specializing in the field events practiced the skills required of them.

Daily training was a part of the agenda that each member followed. Constant persistance and good sportsmanship were required and stressed by the coaches, who diligently aided the Vikings in their efforts to become better athletes.

The great outside shooting of Jill Barlow, Linda Duke, and Heidi Husbands, along with the playmaking ability of Denise Draper, was the key to the lady Vikes ball club. The inside power moves, and controlling the boards at all times for VHS were Stephanie Smith, Jenny Miller, Linda Duke, and Mindy Pace.

By putting forth effort and hard work, the girls' basketball team enjoyed many meaningful experiences.

The past year has been a building year for the Jr. rsity as well as the Varsity wrestling team. The restlers worked very hard for their meets and tourna- ents. They set their goals and worked constantly roughout the season to achieve them. By doing this e wrestlers learned dedication and hard work. They orked out until they thought they had given %100 d then their coaches made them think differently. t even with the bloody noses, separated shoulders, d bruised bodies, most of the wrestlers were glad at they had suffered through the long winter onths.

The hockey season was about average this year. Only three players from the year previous was on the team again, so they pulled players from WX. Leading scorers were Dale Williams, team captain, Lornce Wight, and Mike Farnes, both from WX. They tied Bountiful in a hard close game of 2-2, but won Kearns, Alta, and Cottonwood. The team fought hard, on their way to state but lost early in the rounds, their season was filled with pride and honor.

Golf Team Has Rough Season

Viewmont High's golf team got off to a slow start but showed improvement with each game. Coach Burningham is really proud of this team. They lacked in experience but made it up with determination. Congratulations to the golf team for an excellent 1982 season.

The tennis team had a winning season. They won friendships, exercise and experience, even though the season record showed more losses than wins. They were led by their senior, and three year member, Jill Hansen. Jill was also voted by her team to be "most valuable player". Cindy Neibaur received the acknowledgement of being "most improved," and Melissa George was voted as being the "most inspirational." Other varsity letter winners were Lynda Garlick, Julie Lish, and LeAnn Toolson. Newcomers to the team were Rozanne Allen, Becky Lee and Kris Preece. All in all it was a fun and successful season.

It's tennis weather! Break out the rackets. The boys tennis team spent their time after school practicing their forehand, backhand, lobs, and volleys to make the competitions a success.

Tennis, being an individual sport, requires more individual practice to obtain the skill that is needed to play a great game. However, without the spirit of the team backing up the individual players in tense moments, they would go nowhere.

To keep up this dedicated commitment and spirit, their coach headed the team as they "smashed" their way through a great season. Many thanks to the coach and the team for a successful year of representing the Vikings with much success.

On October 9-10 the girls soccer team participated in the Boise Invitational in Idaho. At the end of regulation time the score was 3-3. They went into overtime and lost to Wahington of a score 4-3. On November 3, the Region championships were held at Clearfield High, with Viewmont against Davis. Once again the end score at regulation time was 3-3. The teams went into overtime, but both teams were tough and no-one scored. They then went into a Suddn Death. (In soccer instead of a second overtime they go into shat is called sudden death. Which is where 5 players from each team kick a penalty kick at the goalie from the other team.) Points in sudden death were scored by Melinda Davis, Tonya Dye, and LeAnn Beckman. All attempts by Davis for a score were stopped by Denice Christensen. Viewmont Rowdies beat Davis in the Sudden Death and became First region champs. This was both a very exciting and emotional time for this great team. They took state more then any other school in 4A.

Running down a grass covered field while dribbling a ball with your feet, is really harder than it sounds. But for some twenty-seven guys, its part of their daily routine. These guys, are of course Viewmont Highs 1983 Varsity and J.V. Soccer Team.

Under the coaching ability of Mr. Cushing, they practice their volley kicks, passes, heading the ball, and trapping. All of this in hopes of coming out on top with numerous victories and an opportunity of capturing state. Hard work and dedication are the key words to the hard working members of the soccer team. Viewmont is sure that they will represent it well.

Girls Earn Spot In State

"Go out kickin' " was a phrase coined with this year's volleyball team in mind. We defeated the first place team in region, brought home both traveling trophies against Bountiful and Woods Cross, and ended up at the state tournament representing Region Four by defeating Woods Cross in a play-off game. With the help of a special volleyball by the name of "Herschel" and the leadership of team captains, Jill Barlow and Julie Sorenson, we had a volleyball season we will not easily forget.

Dedication was the key factor for the Boys Cross Country team. With every member dedicating their time for improvement, there wasn't anyway they would be beat. It started with a challenge to run 500 miles during the summer. This challenge was met by Brian Fuller and proved to be a benefactor, as he led the team to a region title, during which he set a new course record.

Region was only a step for them as they moved on to bigger and better things in state. The few that represented Viewmont did it well as this time they came home with the state trophy under their arms. Brian Fuller ended up with a first place ranking in state with Mike Allen not far behind in ninth. Coach Dubois is mighty proud of this team. He has put in a lot of time and we're all proud of him and the 1982 Cross Country Team.

Girls Take Fourth

The girls' Cross Country Team was not going to be out-shined by the boys. They worked hard and put in long hours to improve themselves for their competitors. They were osted out of a first place in region by a highly favored Davis team. They settled for a second place trophy and were eager to show their stuff in state. Sheila Fairbanks broke a school record with a time of 16:10.

In state the girls showed that they were hot. Sheila Fairbanks, Rhonda Hadley and Aimee Anderson came in one after the other without a single girl between them. This feat helped them to capture fourth in state. Coach Dubois had an excellent year and will only be losing a couple of seniors. Next year will prove to be an interesting one.

A True Blooded Viking

Dave Blauer, Viking mascot for the year 1982-83

Dave Blauer, our devoted viking mascot, led us through our defeats and victories with spirit, pride and unity. Dave is one of the best mascots that Viewmont has had for awhile. He was always out there cheering right along with the cheerleaders, promoting unity and spirit throughout the studentbody. Dave took his place among the cheerleaders helping them in pep-rallies and assemblies to get everyone excited. He also helped them in the stunts that took place during the games. In full costume, with gleaming sword, Dave — represented Viewmont like a true blooded Viking.

Shannon Wilcox did it again!

The 1982-83 Viewmont Vykettes started out the year great by gringing home a superior trophy and a spirit stick from drill camp. During the summer they represented the school well when marching with the band in several parades. Throughout the year they upheld the tradition of excellence when performing in the State and Idaho Drill Competitions. They promoted spirit for the school when marching in pep rallies, assemblies, and various other performances. They have been invited to go to Washington D.C. this summer to perform with the band. The long hours of hard work, practice, and dedication have paid off for the Vykettes as they have continued to be a symbol of Viking pride throughout the year.

The Flag and Rifle Corps got off to a great start last summer. Ninth graders that interested in joining the colorguard marched with them in the parades. Marching skills and flag and rifle mevements, ranging from basic to advanced, were taught at a three day workshop held at Utah State University.

School started and with it, came many hours of work. 51 man-hours alone were required in making up routines to the four marching songs for competition. Even more hours were spent in teaching, learning, and perfecting routines. But all of the work, sweat and tears paid off on the night of October 13th, the Davis Cup Competition, where the Colorguard placed 3rd.

The second semester, a routine to "Eye of the Tiger" was presented at the basketball half-time of the season opener against Davis High.

Viewmont Gymnasts

The 1982-83 gymnastics team consisted of 18 girls including the manager. These girls ranged from sophomores to Seniors. Although the team was small, they were full of energy, excitement, and the unity that it takes to succeed.

Kamile Anderson, Shelly Knighton, Kamee Leishman, Lori Owen, Mindy Salmon, Kim Sarris, Julie Sorenson, and Jolene Ward were all return gymnasts from last year's team. Together with the new members, they all worked hard to make this a very successful year.

The goal of this years team was to win the region meet, held April 6th, go undefeated in region competition, and have a few girls place at the state meet. They worked hard towards their goals with success.

The coaches, Pierce and Arhart, say that with their energy and skill, Kim Sarris and Julie Sorenson are the seniors they think are scholarship material.

A new program was started this year in the T and I radio and T.V. class. Cable T.V. was put in and the schools were given channel 12. The T and I classes make and produce their own programs to put on the air. Producing headquarters is here at Viewmont. This year the class was sent the basic kit for a real studio set (including two $12,000 cameras). Within the next two years new and better equipment will be sent until they have all professional equipment used in real studios. FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

STUDYING VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

The FFA got a taste of life as a farmer this year as they were put in charge of the old Smoot farm again, taking care of the animals and chores. They also sponsered the fall sweetheart contest where Lori Owen took first. Activities that were included were tracker driving, greased pig chase, and an interview among other things. During the spring,they planned a flower bed to be planted in front of the school in the shape of VHS. Another activity was the Girls Choice dance that was held on halloween. They also sold poinsettas during the year.

Business Leaders

The Future Leaders of America, Viewmont Chapter, was organized this year. Installations took place on November 9, 1982 under the direction of Dr. Gary Lloyd, State Specialist in Business Education.

Officers installed were Paula Harrison, President; Lanette Smith, Vice President; Julie Burnett, Secretary; Beverlee Albrechtsen, Treasurer; Julie Davis, Historian; and Stephanie Neath, Parliamentarian. Mrs. Parks was recognized as FBLA Sponsor and Advisor.

Sue Jarman represented Viewmont as the City Regional Vice President. She was selected for this position by Dr. Lloyd and members of the FBLA State Executive Board.

The FBLA gives students an opportunity to grow through meeting with other students in Utah and across the country for the purpose of sharing their mutual interests in business.

By taking responsibility for carrying out assigned tasks in a manner that will reflect credit to themselves, their associates, their schools, and communities, FBLA members pledge themselves to use their abilities to make the world a better place for everyone.

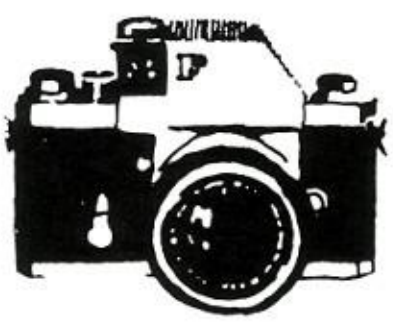
The calendars were sold to raise money for a tee shirt machine. Throughout the year correlation with the commercial art clubs designed posters for athletic events and dances. Many shirts were silk-screened for various clubs and organizations. Mr. Cushing, Art Club advisor, stated that there wasn't another school in the state that provided such a service to their studentbody. Another fund raiser the Art Club sponsered was the faculty/student basketball game during ragnarock week. The Art Club wrote a new constitution and had several activities including a pizza party, traveling to the Deseret News annual exhibit, Springville national show, and plan to have a waterskiing trip this summer at Mantua. Copy Editors: Cindy Booms, Cherlynn Blatter



Not a lot of people know what it takes to be called a true DANEGELD journalist. Well, it takes someone who can report a story and tell all sides of it truthfully and unbiasedly. It takes someone who can do the job on time, and if need be, work overtime, and most importantly, it takes someone who can work under a LOT of PRESSURE. This years newspaper staff is composed of such journalists.

Another thing that people don't realize is all the support the paper has been given this year as well as in past years. This includes: Mr. Brown, who helped out on pictures every now and then, the people at SPECTRUM PRESS, who came to be very good friends, and finally you the studentbody.

EDDAS

This book didn't begin as the new year started, but as last year ıded. Michelle Dennis and I attended a week long workshop at eber State to inform us of what we were getting ourselves into, ıd we soon found out it was a lot.

Michelle and I started out as co-editors, but as the year got arted, Michelle had to resign because of her many responsibilities.

As editor I couldn't start on the 1982-83 book at the beginning :cause the 1982 Supplement was never finished during the sum- er. So thanks to Craig Alder, and Mr. Manfull, we completed that, ıd the staff and I got going on the book.

I would like to thank the members of the staff for the help and ırd work given and those members that were there when I needed em most.

I hope this book, in the years to come, will bring back many ppy memories to you as it will me.

Oh#*$?!!, will this day ever end?

This year's book was with a different publisher. The staff, as well as the Editor, had a very difficult time getting started and on their way. Editor, Kathy Scott, and Michelle Dennis attended a week long workshop at Weber State College to learn more about Jostens (the yearbook company) and their way of putting a book together. Not as many late nights were spent at the school as in years previous, but many heavy eyelids worked over the weekends, both Saturday's and Sunday's. After the confusion and frustration of late deadlines, lack of communication, and no pictures, the final shipment was made with a sigh of relief. The book was completed and here it is.

The Mads began their year in the summer providing the choral work for Bountiful Community Theatre and performing at the State PTA Convention at Woods Cross. Wherever they performed they received high praise and continued to improveas the Christmas season approached. After thirty performances which included Promise Valley Playhouse, numerous church and civic gatherings, and the Festival of Trees. They began to anticipate Spring activities. The singers made strong festival showings before traveling to California for their Spring Concert Tour. They were well received at Disneyland and area high schools. The end of the year was highlighted with the annual Madrigal Concert and a final goodbye at Vespers.

Cyd Staples and Ric Workman are obviously having a great time.

This group of sixty accomplished singers began the year with a strong Fall performance and improved from there. In November the choir won top honors at the BYU Choral Festival and began to look forward to their Christmas performance. The singers were heard through the Yuletide season on several local radio stations, Including a Christmas Eve broadcast of the concert.

During the second semester the choir continued to fine tune their talents, making strong appearances at Festivals on a region and state level. The year ended with the Seniors performing at graduation Exercises.

The junior choir is one of the major musical training grounds for singers at VHS. The singers spend countless hours learning vocal techniques and gaining skills which will help them in future choral work. The choir performed in the major concerts at VHS and began preparing for festival work, solo and ensemble competition and senior choir auditions. One of the most important skills the students gained was learning to work well together.

Brett Wheadon looks into class

This year's sophomore mens choir had perfect balance for singing four part harmony. They had a very strong start, performing very well on the Fall Concert and going on to become even more polished by Christmas. At the semester break the dozen-barbershoppers transferred into Jr. Choir to gain some mixed chorus singing before the end of the year.

The girl's chorus was a fine group of sophomore girls who loved to sing together. They worked hard during the Fall to prepare for their first performance. At Christmas time, they were ready to move into staging and choreography on their way to becoming very enjoyable performers. The enthusiasm and love for singing which they had, helped them have a year which indicates great things in the future.

The band got off to a great start this year with their performance at Davis Cup, where the color-guard came away with 3rd place. The excitement came to a climax when the announcement was made that the V.H.S. Band was invited back east to Washington D.C. to represent Utah in the July 4th celebration. The band invited the color-guard and drill team to go with them. Fund raisers, such as pizzas, coupon booklets and fruitcake sales were done in order to raise money for the trip scheduled for July of 1983.

With the trip in the background, enthusiasm was high among the students this year. Though the band was smaller than in recent years, they worked, played and performed remarkably well.

Strings And Things

The orchestra this year may be small, but they are large in spirit. Rather than letting the orchestra die, Laurie Kemp, the new instructor, came to teach the group, comprised mostly of sophomores.

Their first concert was held on December 20. The invited the Bountiful orchestra to play with them, which resulted in many new friends.

The orchestra participated this year in the solo and ensemble and other competions.

"You are Woman, I am Man"

Stephanie Barnes as Rosie Brice

I am the beautiful reflection of my lovers affection.

Here comes the bride, another beautiful bride.

"Funny Girl" is a musical based on the life of Fanny Brice. The newly formed VHS Musical Theatre Company, under the direction of Jeanne McGuire, worked many hours to recreate, among other things, the feeling of New York theatre in the twenties, and the lavish setting of the Ziegfeld Follies. The large cast included forty-five singers, dancers and actors, all of whom had other technical assignments to fulfill as well. Their combined efforts gave Viewmont audiences a truly memorable theatrical experience.

Mama and Lil Arne are at Uncle Chris' bedside as he prepares to die.

On November 20 and 22 John Van Drutens two act play "I Remember Mama" was performed in the Viewmont High auditorium. The play was adapted from Kathryn Forbes book "Mama's Bank Account". The play was under the direction of Glen Camomile, head of the drama department, and assisted by Bob Eckman.

The play takes place in San Francisco in the early 1910's and is about a family that comes from Norway. The children were born in America, but the parents came to this country on a boat. Its about how all the problems that they face seem to work themselves out with the help of 'Mama'. She seems to see the best in everything and brings the good out in every situation.

The play hosted an extra large cast as some twenty-two actors were involved. The play is written as the eldest daughter is reading from her manuscript and reliving the events as they happened. Some of the problems that plagued the family were such things as their border, Mr. Hyde, leaving them while still owing some money. He used to read to them from great novels, which he left behind, and mama says that they were pay enough.

The climax to the story is the event with the dresser set and mamas brooch. Katrin is now growing up and papa feels she is ready to try coffee, however which she refuses. Katrin wants to be an author and again with the help of her determined mother and a famous author, she accomplishes her goal. A real cat was used in the play and proved out be a great benefactor. It was a great play enjoyed by both cast and audience. A smashing success.

The "Class of 1983" - a proud, driving, talented, determined group. It is hard to say goodbye.

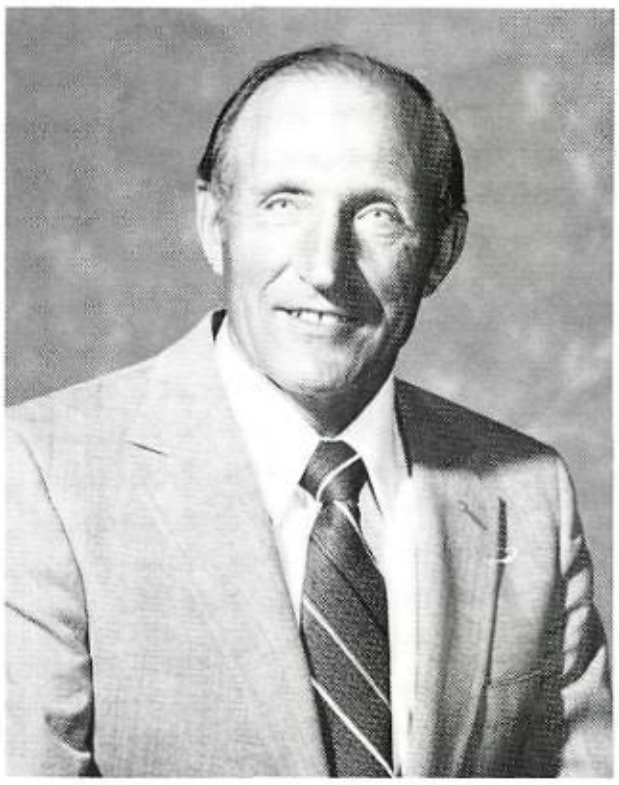
We at the Viking realm anticipated your coming long before 1980 arrived. Among you were "stand-out" people even in your Junior High years. As Sophomores you early took your place as full-fledged Vikings. Remember your first assembly. We dubbed you "Viking." There was no need for an orientation period—you had taken care of that. Through the year as Sophomores, many of your athletic achievement ranked you among the Seniors. This was not a narrow few or one-sided. In academics you showed great powers and brought distinction to the school. Your class ranked among the three or four top Utah schools in achievement on the National Merit Scholarship examination.

You have brought great strength and accomplishment to Viewmont. Now, as you spread throughout the world to commence your lives, we admonish you to remember you are Vikings. You are capable, dynamic, driving individuals. Prepare yourselves well, give freely of your time and talent to make the world a better place for all to live.

Return and see us often. We will always have a sincere interest in your achievements. We wish you a rich, happy, full life.

ALMON J. FLAKE

Vice Principals

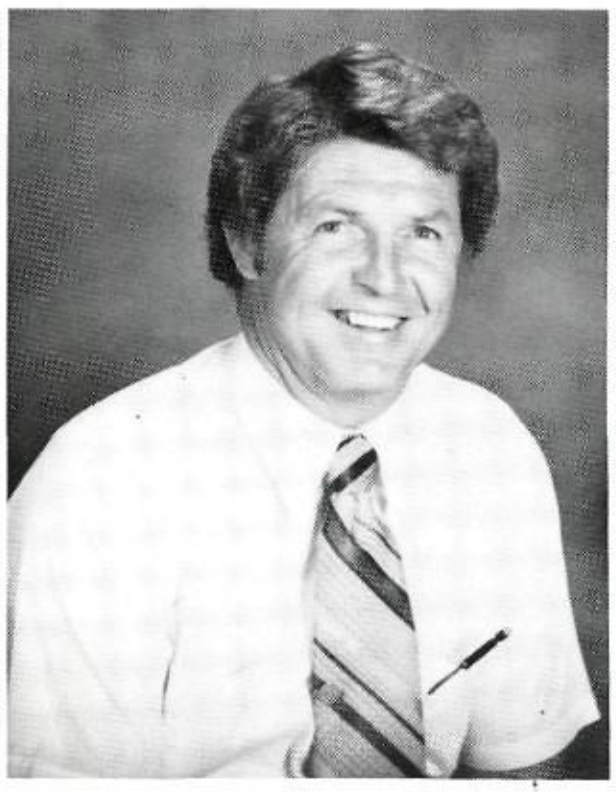


Almost every person has the ability to etermine and direct his own life, and if ıey are dissatisfied with the road they are aveling, they have the power to change y changing their habits and thinking. You oung people should be busily engaged in eveloping personal qualities to the high-st degree, and you should do this in such way that it would encourage others to mulate you.

I hope in some way your experiences at iewmont have helped you discover the ıost important person in the world as far s you are concerned—YOURSELF.

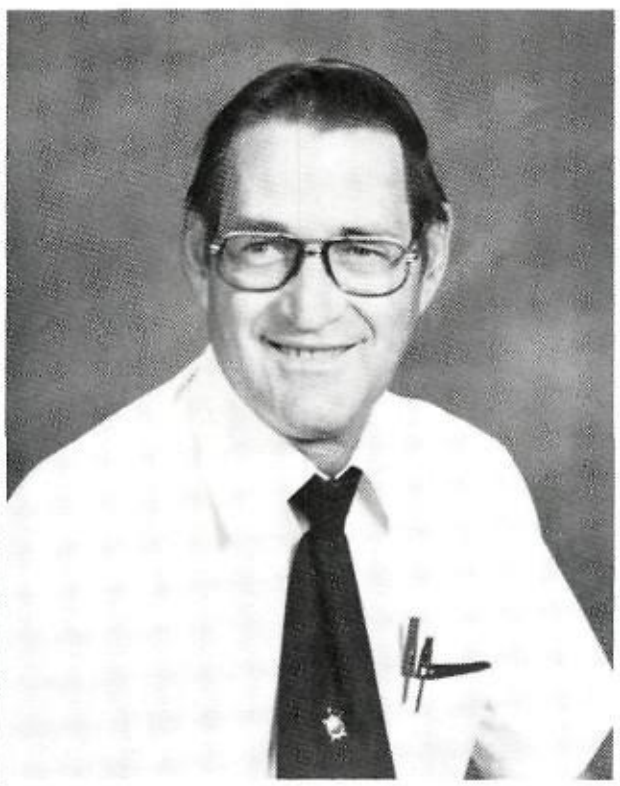
Thanks for your contribution and your iendship.

Robert G. Bowen



I have just completed my first year at the "Home of the Vikes". The students and faculty have shown me what "Viking Pride" is about. The students are proud of their school and what it represents. Since coming here, I have learned a whole new set of traditions which characterize Viewmont High School. Not only do the cheerleaders, flag corp, band, and football team add to the spirit and pride of the Vikings, but every student and faculty member adds his or her contribution. Viewmont is a school we can all be proud of. It provides a wide variety of opportunities for each and every student. I have sensed this feeling as I have worked with all of you during the past year.

Fred Brown



This past year has been rewarding to watch Viewmont students begin to be successful in the world of work. You have utilized your opportunities here at school to explore vocational choices; your horizons have been broadened, and preparations have begun towards careers, vocations, and a life's work.

You who have participated in the school's vocational programs have discovered "doing" as well as "learning" and are better prepared to contribute to your homes and communities than students in the past. This year I have been proud of the students enrolled in Viewmont's vocational classes. Your high standards and levels of achievement forecast success as you leave here and step out to take your place in the world. We know you will represent us in the best Viking tradition.

The Viewmont High cooking squad consisted of 12 wonderful ladies. They had to come to school everyday to slave over hot ovens and stoves to insure that the students would receive a nourishing lunch. They often went unnoticed and not given as much appreciation as they deserved. Some of the most favorite lunches of the students were; French Dip, Hot Ham and Cheese, Enchiladas, Tacos, Lasagna, Corn Dogs and Oven Baked Chicken. The cooks always made the atmosphere in the lunchroom something that everyone enjoyed. A special thanks goes to all those ladies that suffered through our harassment.

Industrious Class Officers

As homecoming week rolled around, the sophomore officers were finally being elected. Everyone was excited as the final results were announced. Putting Brad, Jennifer and Melissa in the spotlight. Right off they had the duty of picking a committee. All three worked hard to choose those that would be beneficial. Even with a short amount of time, the officers and committee put together an excellent float for the homecoming parade, winning first prize of fifty dollars. Under the advisory of Mrs. Dubois, Brad Jennifer and Melissa have made it a year for all sophomores. The class of '85 have grown in spirit pride and unity.

The year was almost under way before the newest viking officers had chosen their committee. The newly elected members were determined to set new trends and in making the year a success for all sophomores. They combined their thoughts and ideas for the Sophomore Girls Dance trying to make everything run smooth. During sophomore week they joined forces to show the school their pride and unity. The sophomore class will have many members making the class of '85 unitied.

Boys!

Boys are a pain!

They misinterpret almost everything you say. They feel that their "Superior" minds and strength must receive a steady stream of compliments. A boy can date any girl under the sun when he is going steady. If the girl gets mad then she is labled as acting childish, and she is much too jealous. But on the other hand, if the girl goes out with another guy, then her boyfriend gets very angry, and he has a good reason.

Sometimes they forget eventful days and important promises. An example of this is phone calls. When they tell you to wait home for their call they forget. Then the next time they call you are not home, and you get in trouble!

Although they are rotten alot of the time, they always listen to problems when they are needed. They are willing to be your personal chauffeur. In fact they will do almost anything you want them to!

Boys are a paradox, you can't live with them and you can't live without them. They are a mixture of the suaveness of Cary Grant and the pushiness of Henry VIII!

Arcades

Armed with their quarters, tokens, and nimble fingers, thousands of kids every week converge at the arcades, spending as much as $10.00, to play their favorite video games. Among the top are Frogger, Ms. Pac-man, Tempest, and Asteroids.

Many parents tend to believe that video games are just a waste of money, where as the teenagers believe that video games sharpen their reflexes. Ms. Pac-man is a game in which you need quick reflexes to escape the onrushing ghosts. Asteroids takes eye-to-hand coordination to blast speeding asteroids. So you decide, is it worth it to play or is it just a waste of time and money.

Girls!

Have you ever noticed how fickle a girl is? If she isn't trying to decide what to wear to school, she's trying to decide what guy to like.

But the biggest problem is when you take them on dates. The first thing they do is drag you in the house to meet their parents. Now if your the average guy, this is the ultimate worse. The only time you should really have to meet their parents is if you want to get serious (heaven forbid)!

When you finally do go in to meet her parents you start to sweat like a pig in a suana. You say "Hi", shake hands and thats all there is to it! Right? WRONG!! It wouldn't be so bad if that's all there was to it, but instead she introduces you then stands back with a cheezy grin and laughs to herself. Her Dad asks the unwanting question of what time you will be back. You haven't the faintest!! Quickly you search for a time that you will be suitable, knowing all the time that if you are a minute later her father is going to meet you at the door with a knuckle sandwich and put you on his blacklist!

The pain and suffering the guys go through to please you girls and get a SMALL kiss, is not worth it. Next time I think I'll take my sister!!

Resurrection

The minutes seem to drag on by slowing down with each tick of the clock. Every student is slumped over in their chairs one eye on the clock, and one eye on their books. 5 . . . 4 . . . 3 . . . 2 . . . 1 . . . RING!

It is 2:10 on a Friday afternoon and suddenly a miracle happens. Every book is slammed shut, and the once statue-like students jump to their feet and nimbly race down the halls. The weekend has arrived and resurrection has occured!

With the weekend comes various sorts of activities, the most common of which is sleep. After a hard week of school, most students recooperate by sleeping in both Saturday and Sunday. Running a close race with sleep, we find the poor student who can't sleep in after Friday night's partying, because he has to work. After the sleep is caught up, and the work hours put in,there is a mad rush to the ski slopes, and theaters.

Sunday night arrives, and out comes the homework. Attempts are made to complete all assignments due on Monday. Some succeed, while others give it up for a lost cause.

But regardless of what happens, most agree that a strange death occurrs Sunday night in bed, and continues on until the next Friday afternoon.

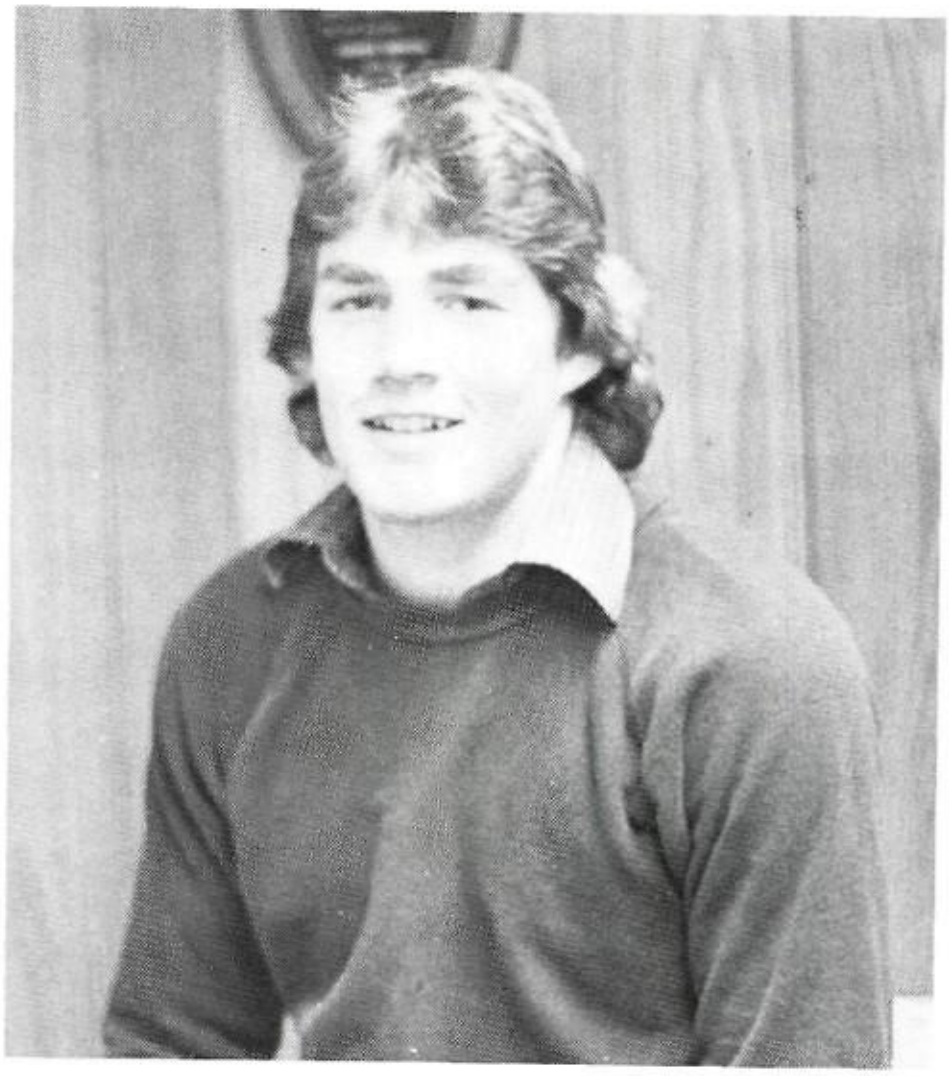
Leaders On Their Way



Lonny King Jr. Class Pres.

Karen Slater Jr. Class Sec.

Millie Phelps Jr. Class V.P.

Lonny King is President of the Jr. Class. His goals are to attend B.Y.U. and to be an architect.

Millie really enjoys Viewmont high, "Especially since I have been an officer. My favorite activities are sports and meeting new people, which I have accomplished at Viewmont."

Karen has really enjoyed being Jr. Class Secretary this year. She likes people and likes to be involved. She loves to smile and gets along with most everyone. One of her goals is to go to college and study English, cosmotology, or campus wildlife.

Senioritis

Does the alarm ring at 6 o'clock and you get out of bed an hour later and arrive at school just as the tardy bell in ringing? Are you an "A" student doing extra credit to get a C? Worried that the F in Health will keep you from graduating but aren't willing to do anything about it? Are the tests getting harder as the classes get easier? Do you have a tendency to daydream or talk constantly during class . . . s

If you have any of these symptoms then you are probably suffering from a contagious disease called "Senioritis". It usually strikes unsuspectingly at the end of the junior year, and steadily worsens as the senior year progresses. The student usually takes the easiest classes possible, and he does the least amount of work possible to graduate.

Although this disease doesn't spread to all students, one word of warning to all juniors approaching the end of your year: BEWARE!

Future senioritis victims.

The Senior Cass Officers have participated in many activities this year.

1-They were in the Homecoming Parade.
2-They donated flags to all the school rooms
3-They held a stomp in October to raise money for the Senior Class.
4-They arranged for Graduation, and the announcements.
5-They planned Senior Week, and Senior Ball

This is only a few of the great things they have done for our school, they have worked hard, and have done an excellent job for us.

The appointed officers worked hard to make things run smoothly here at Viewmont. he hard work of these officers often went unnoticed, but our activities and events would ot have gone as well without their support and diligent efforts.

Thanks, Appointed Officers

Becky Davis - Clubs, Organizaitons

I have been pleased with this 1982-83 school year. The attitude and pride of Viewmont students have been tremendous. To me, they have made this year unforgettable.

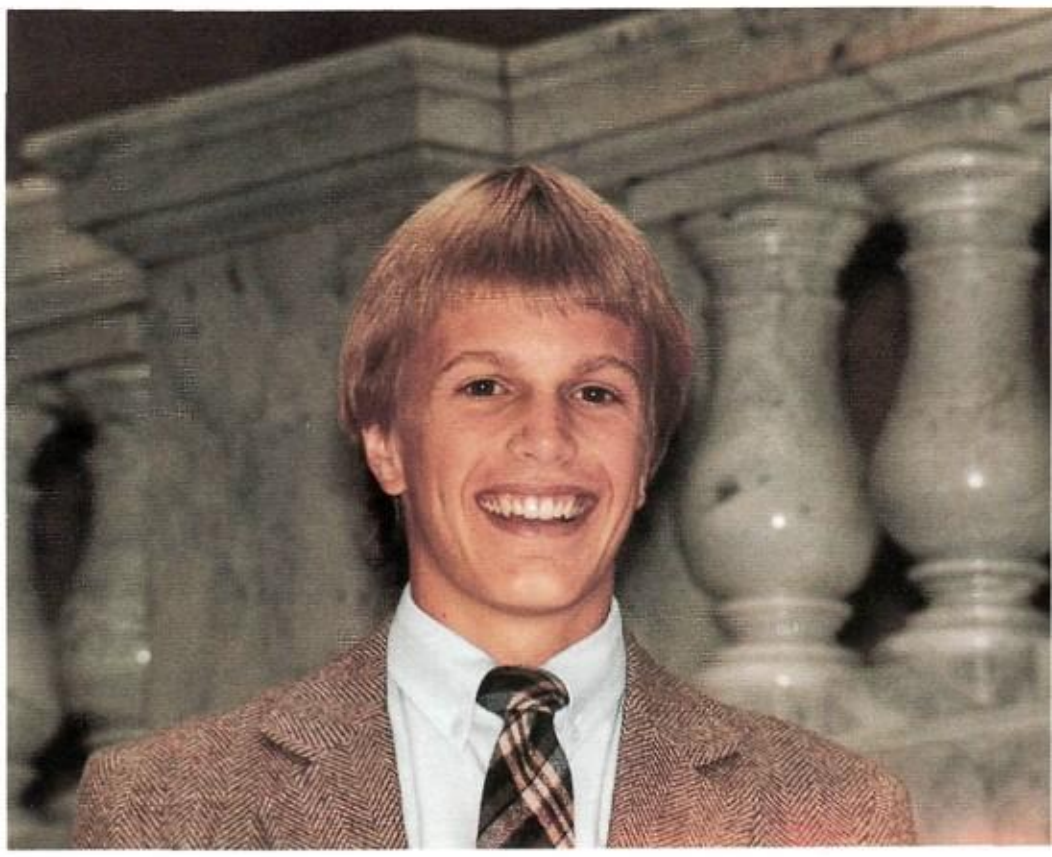
Viewmont is a great and fine experience. We are lucky to have had such a worthwhile experience, and I am grateful to have been a part of it.

My personal involvement has helped me grow closer to Viewmont and those people I have had the privilege to work with. I am grateful for the support we have been given as student body officers this year.

I wish to thank the administration, the faculty, and the officers of this school. I wish the graduating class of 1983, and all forthcoming classes of Viewmont, the best of luck in the future, and want to remind each Viking that we are proud and strong Viewmont Vikings forever.

Dave Larson

David Larson



When I look back over the past three years, I think of excitement — excitement generated by a student body working together, and people being involved in a school. When many of us came here three years ago, we were scared and shy, and we hung around in our own little groups. As the years passed, we realized that even though we are different, we are alike in one respect: we are all Viewmont Vikings who have a pride in our school. We began to stick together and move toward our goals as a unit, helping each other and watching each other succeed. Although we learn many things in school, one of the most important things we have learned is the quality of working together. And I am privileged to have worked with all of you. Thanks for everything, and good luck in all you do.

Rob Moon

The 1982-83 school year is over, and I am proud to say I graduated from Viewmont High.

To our graduating class and also those students who will follow, I say: Viewmont has an excellent academic and athletic program with a staff and administration whose desire to help us is hard to equal. Most important are the students who worked hard to develop unity and to support each other. Everyone has made some contribution to Viewmont and to each other.

I hope as every student leaves Viewmont, they will be able to contribute to their communities as they have to Viewmont High, and remember Viewmont as I do — with pride.

First Woman Principal Named To Davis Dictrict High School

Special to The Tribune

FARMINGTON — Nancy Fleming, 39, has been appointed Davis School District's first female high school principal.

Granger High's principal, Mary Jean Johnson, is the only other female high school principal in Utah.

The Davis Board of Education Tuesday assigned Dr. Fleming to Viewmont High School in Bountiful. She will replace Almon J. Flake, who is taking early retirement June 30.

For the past four years, Dr. Fleming, an Ogden resident, has been an assistant principal of Layton High School. She also has been an assitant principal at Millcreek Junior High in Bountiful, a counselor at Layton High and a physical education teacher at Centerville Junior [illegible] Clearfield High [illegible]

A Special Class For Growing Minds

Alisha Tayor

The special Education class was a time for students enrolled to gain knowledge and skills to prepare them for the years ahead.

The group worked in places like the cafeteria. They worked hard in getting along in society, and making new friends.

Foreign

Pia Ahlm, a foreign student from Sweden, is participating at Viewmont as a Senior. She is said to be a very good student. She is a member of the swim team. Her coach says that she is an excellent swimmer and is really making this years swim team a success, in fact she has broken many school records. Pia is very good in her school studies and is learning a lot about the United States and the people of Utah. She enjoys living here and will use her experiences throughout her life.

Pia Ahlm-Sweden

Rosie Campos, a student from Mexico City, is enrolled as a Junior here at Viewmont. She says that it is a pleasure for her to be able to stay in the United States and go to Viewmont High School. She enjoys learning about the History of the United States and wants to continue learning. She thinks that the schools here are very different from the ones in Mexico, because the ones in Mexico are very strict. Rosie believes that by coming to the United States it will help her progress and mature her life. She likes the people of Utah very much, but she misses her country and friends.

Rosie Campos-Mexico

Cecilia Dieterle is an exchange student from Sweden. She says that she wanted to come to the United States to meet new people and live in a different culture. She has been here for five months. She says that the school system here is very different from the schools in Sweden. Sweden also has what they call a High School, but they attend for 9 years. Cecilia's school in Sweden is similar to Viewmont, but they cannot choose their own subjects. They have about 12 assigned subjects, which are divided throughout the week. They have more homework there than here, and the teachers expect more from you. It is required for all Swedish students to learn English, Cecilia has been studying English for 8 years. Cecilia says that she likes Viewmont, better than the school in Sweden. They do not have sports there like they do here. She likes the idea of having school teams because it unites the students and creates the feeling that the whole student body is a team. To make friends here is a lot easier than in Sweden, says Cecilia. The Swedish act as if they are afraid of each other. The dating system here is fun, says Cecilia. In Sweden they do things different. If you want to meet someone you usually meet them at a school dance. Cecilia is staying at Viewmont for the rest of the school year and will return to Sweden in the middle of June. She is anxious to tell her friends and family about the time spent here and how nice the Americans she met ere, and what a great experience coming here was for her.

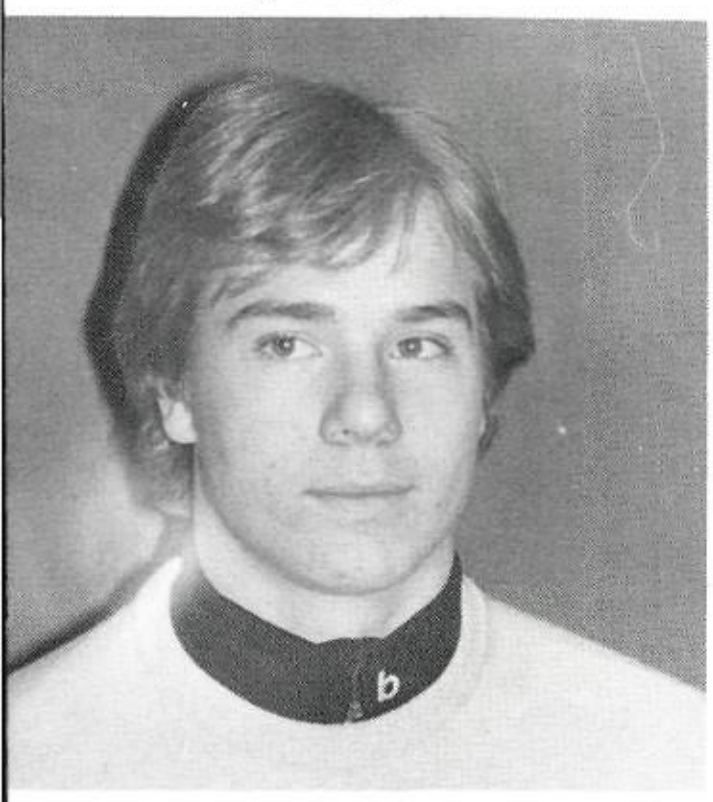
Students

Michijo Endo-Japan

Michijo Endo is an exchange student from Japan. She enjoys staying here in the United States and going to Viewmont. She also enjoys her classes. Because she has all of her requirements for graduation, she gets to take the classes that she enjoys the most. She says that American classes are more interesting than Japanese classes. Michijo also believes that it is very important for people of different nations to know and understand each other. When Michijo came here and began to attend school, she says that she was puzzled. It was very different from her High School in Japan. The behavior of the students really surprised her. They ate candy, drank pop, smoked, hugged each other and kissed at school. In Japan they neer do these things at school, including have school dances. Michijo says that she likes living here because she has more freedom here than in Japan, but she misses her family and friends. Michijo believes that her experiences here will add to her life. She is making new friends and learning new ways of life that will create very good memories for her.



Fredrik Randeus-Sweden

Fredrik Randeus is a foreign exchange student from Sweden. He enjoys skiing, snowmobiling, and riding motorcycles. For the most part Fredrik likes living in the United States and going to Viewmont High School. The school system is very different here than in Sweden. Their classes rotate everyday so you are never doing the same things. It is harder work there for the students and the teachers expect a lot out of them, therefore giving them many hours of homework. Fredrik likes Viewmont because it is not as hard and because it has more school unity.

Jari Valimaa-Finland

Jari Valimaa, an exchange student from Finland, has been going to Viewmont since August. He enjoys going toViewmont very much. He likes learning about the culture and the people of the United States. Jari has made many new friends here and is learning about the new fads and the ways of American teenagers. Like most other countries, the people of Finland are required to take English. In whichcase, Jari has been taking English for many years. Jari misses his family and friends but will use his experiences in the United States to help further his life.

After some confusion the names for this year's National Honor Society were chosen. A formal induction ceremony was held in the Viewmont Auditorium. Dr. Nathan Winters spoke to the members and their parents, stressing creativity. The new members then received their certificates, lit their candles, quoted the oath of membership, and blew out their candles. A committee of five Senior members met with the officers to plan and coordinate activities. The National Honor Society officers for this year are: Steve Cullimore, President; Carolyn Gill, Vice President; Linda Hancey, Secretary; Kia Fadel, Historian; Jill Barlow, Activities Coordinator.

In the month of June 1982, Girls and Boys State was held. The boys traveled up to USU in Logan, while the girls went down to SUSC in Cedar City. While they were there they learned the essential form of government and all the work that it takes to run a governmental system.

They listened to special speakers representing city, state, and county offices. They attended figorous workshops and meetings. Many competed for various offices. As the week ended, the eight representatives from Viewmont knew they were taking home many fond memories and an outstanding and unique experience.

Health Occupations is a class for senior students who are interested in a career in the medical field. Students are given the opportunity to explore 18 careers during this class. They work in such areas as: Physical Therapy, Emergency Room Procedures, Nursing, Radiology, psychiatry, and a few others.

They also receive instruction in advanced Physiology, Anatomy, and medical terminology to help prepare them for futher study. The students visit health care facilities throughout the state to get first hand experience.

Students Learn To Write Creativly

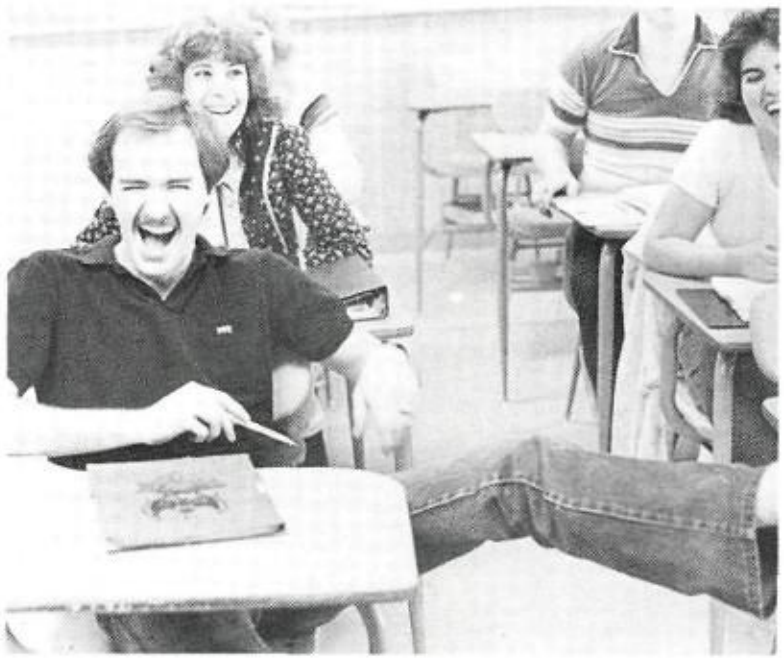
The man behind the students Coach Miller.



Jon Warner can open his mouth and close his eyes at the same time.

Everyone notice the one who is NOT working!

First semester creative writing emphasized on improving writing skills by studying units on conflict setting, mood, transition and unity, and characterization. This was just a warm up . . .

Second semester they buckled down and tightened their belts and started out with point of view, symbol and image, tone, irony, satire, figurative language, plot and style.

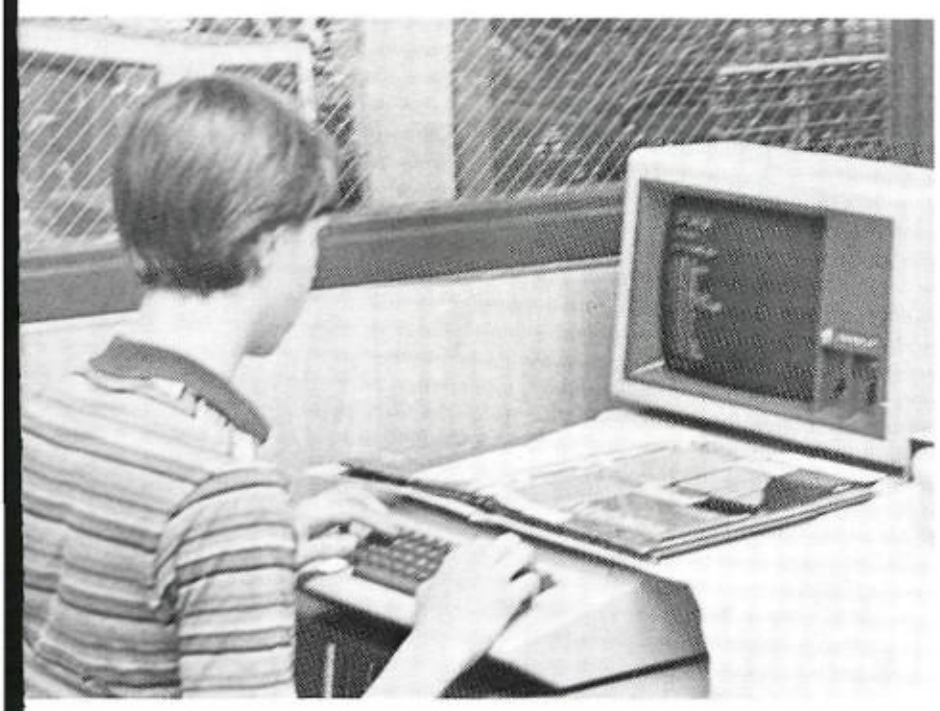
Emphasis was placed on entering writing contests, with long range goals of publication.

Jon Warner shows the class the arm that will soon be amputated, while Kay cries in his behalf

Signs Of Our Time

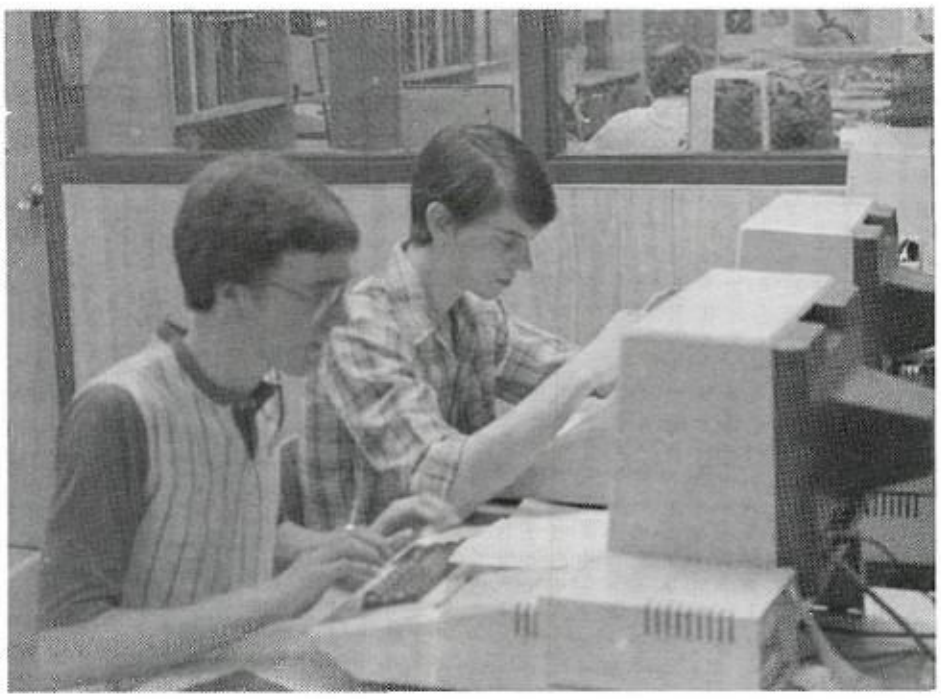
George Eames and David Gittins busy at their computers.

Brenda Austin gets help from Carolyn and George.



Sometimes computers seem a little fuzzy to David Gittins.

Carolyn Gill and Cindy Olson think that computers are a laugh.



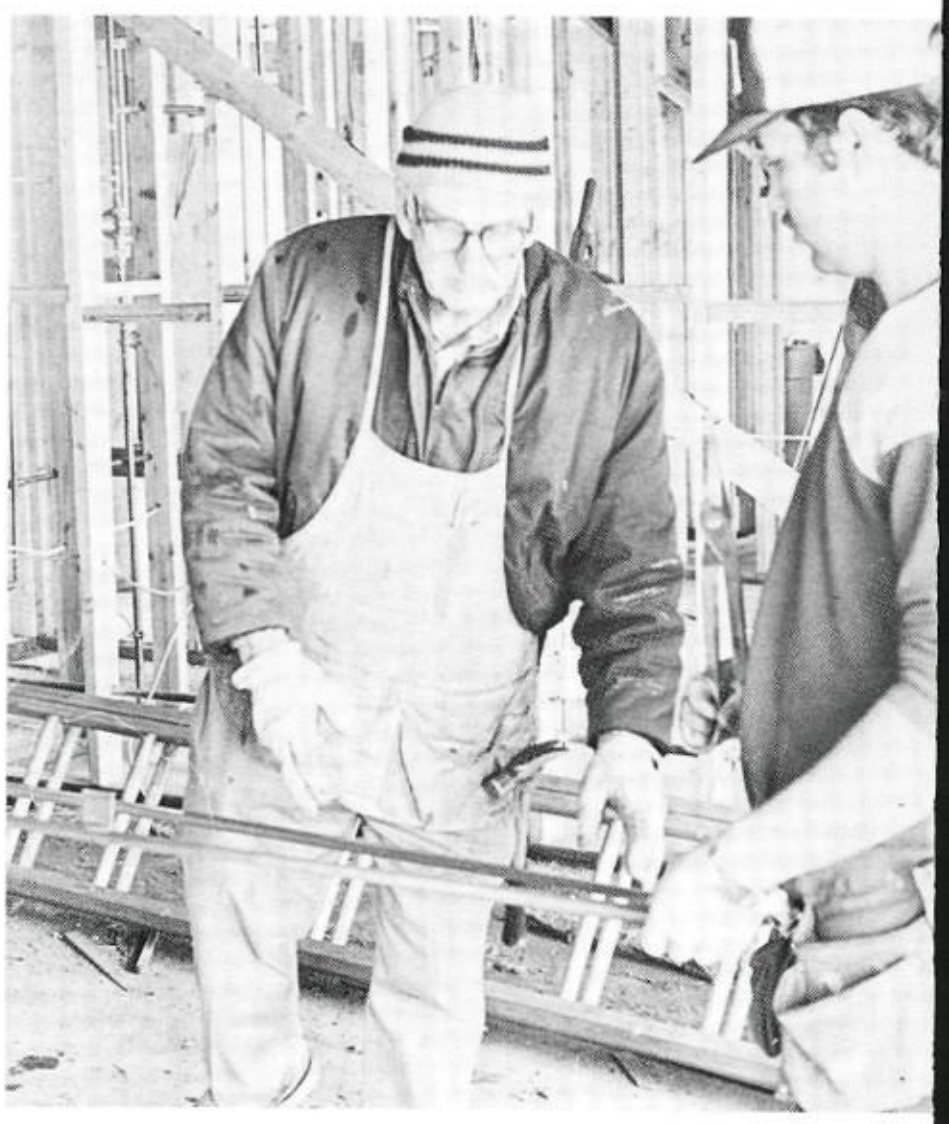
Neil Ditty and Mark Curtis are two of the students enrolled in computer three.

Computers show the sign of the age, and with this sign Viewmonts computer classes are growing in great numbers. Viewmont has three different computer classes that range from computer one through computer three. Computer one and two are half year classes that teach you the basic languages of the computer and computer functions. Then computer three, then comes the challenge of computer three. By the time most students complete the first two courses, they just can't handle computer three. A mere five students were enrolled in computer three this past year. Topping this list is our super computer hero, 'Neil Ditty'. He was eager to take computers and getting really good grades out of the class. He also helps Mr. Martin (Computer instructor) teach a class for other teachers.

Computers is a challenging subject but the way they're taking a place in our society everyone should become involved and get acquainted with them. Chances are that they will probably be used in everybodies field of occupation.

Building Their Way To Success

Under the instruction of Mr. Wall, a few students got together and constructed a house. They did this as part of a learning experience of the building trade. The class learned about concrete work, learned to measure and cut material with skill saws and other carpentry tools, and what it takes to finish a house. This experience has given each student a look at the many trades of the building industry. It has been a priceless opportunity to learn many new and valuable skills for future interests and job opportunities.



Closing Credits

The yearbook was not put together in the same orderly manner as previous books were. Being with Jostens, a new company, the staff, including the advisor and editor, was somewhat confused about the way things were supposed to be run. Kathy Scott tried to get everything organized by assigning people to different areas of responsibility, but some staff members refused to cooperate and try new ways, so we went back to the old ways of disorganization. The next great crisis was the cover. John Branson drew the artwork for the cover, and did an excellent job. The color of the cover was another problem; first, it was going to be a purple-maroon, but again a few members of the staff protested, so we ended up with a black-red cover. The third crisis was the lack of pictures for the layout people. At semester we recruited another photographer and discovered that one of our own staff members was a good photographer and printer.

The greatest problem was that everyone of the deadlines were a month late, putting us further and further behind schedule at the plant, and making it possible for the book to arrive in June. Although we had the lack of communication and unity, we completed the book the middle of March. Thanks go to: Jon Wilhelmson, our representative from Jostens, for his patience and understanding; Mr. Manfull, our advisor; the faculty for letting staff members of of class; John Branson for the excellent artwork on the cover and all the division pages; and a specical thanks to those members of the staff who were crazy enough to stick it out!

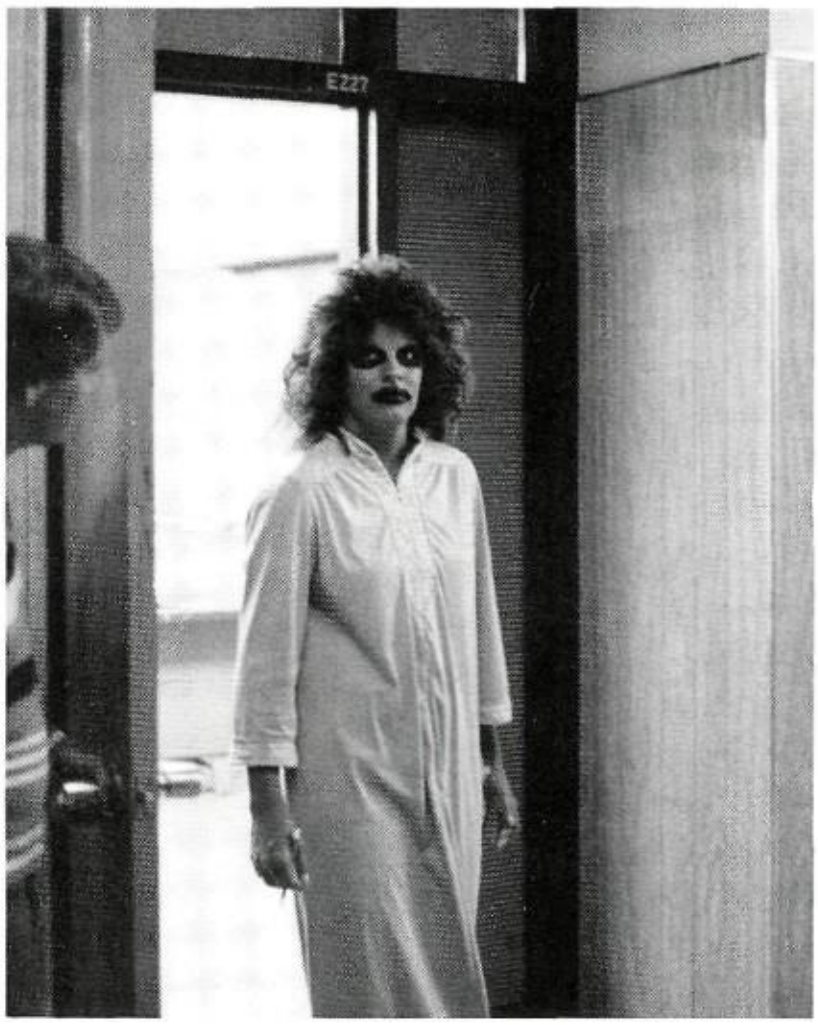
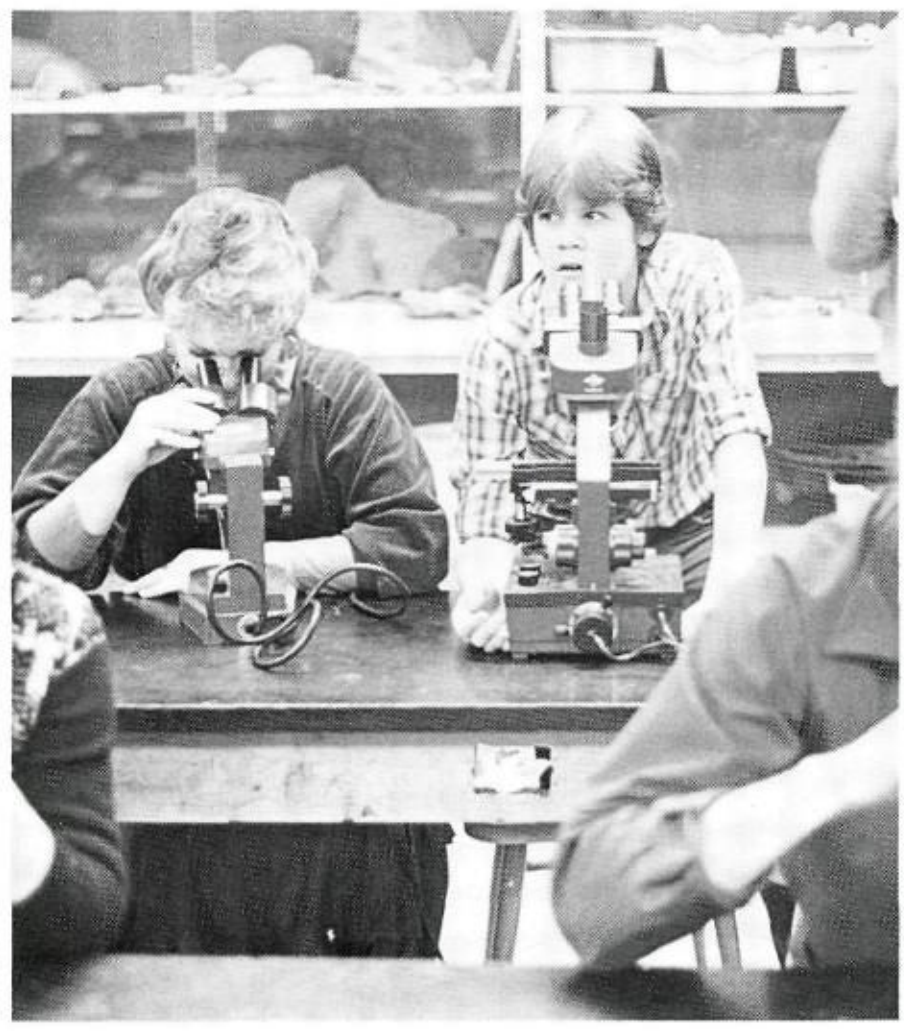
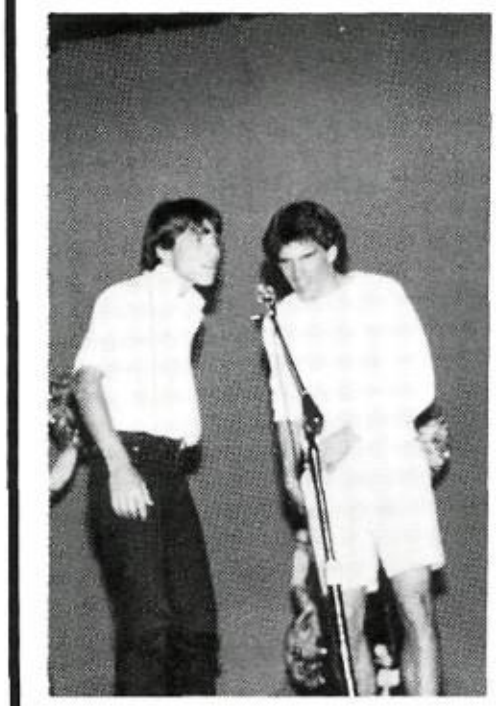
CONCLUSION

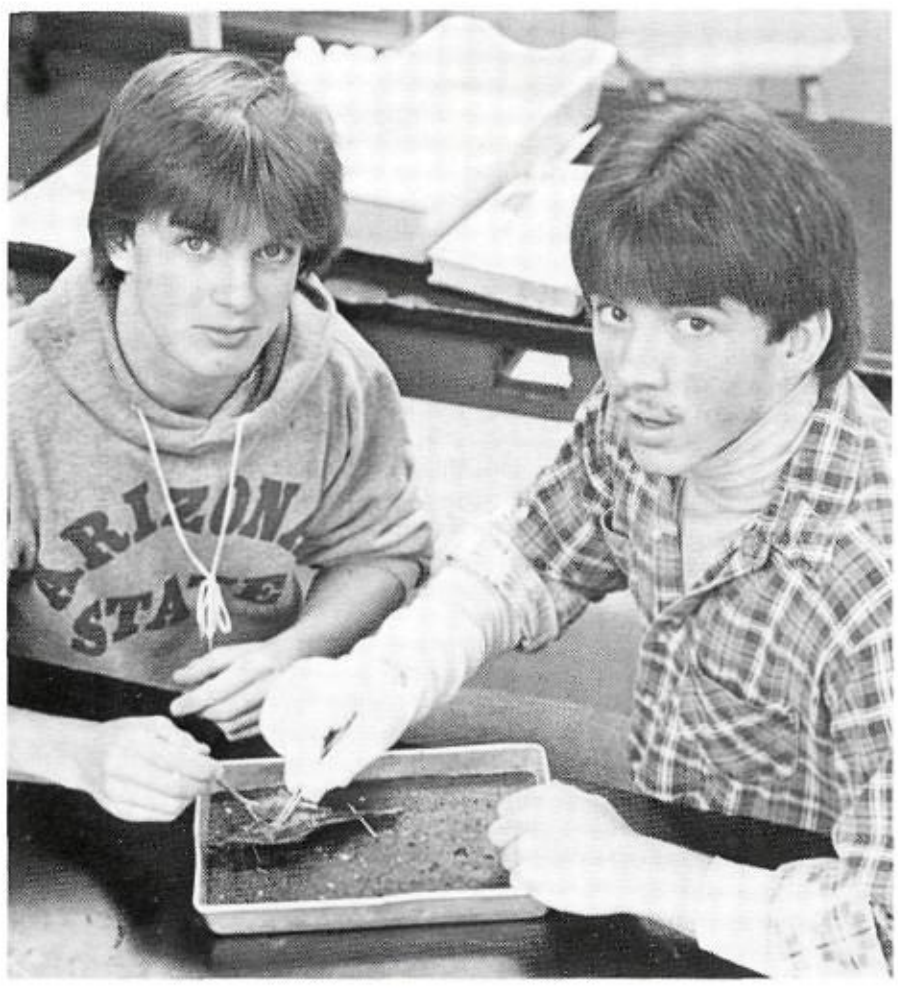
As the Viking Gods look back, they are filled with pride at a job well done.



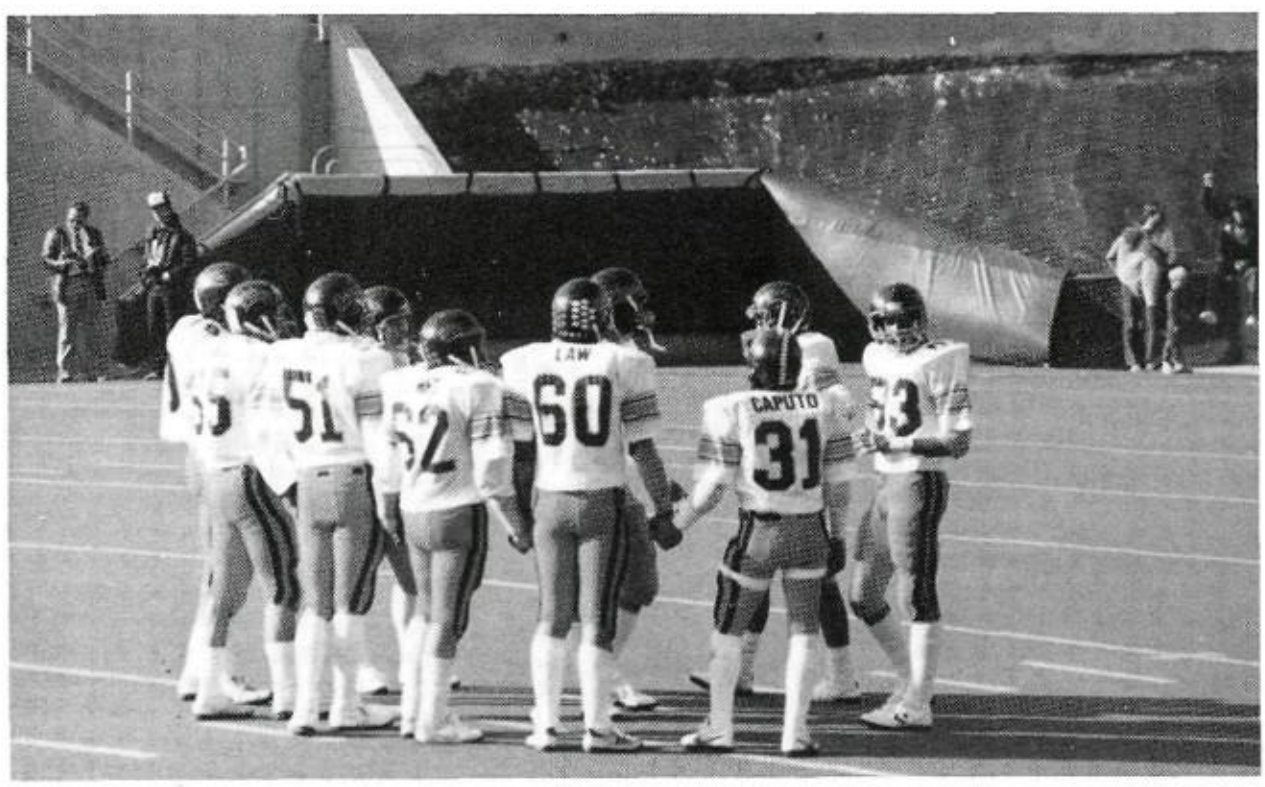


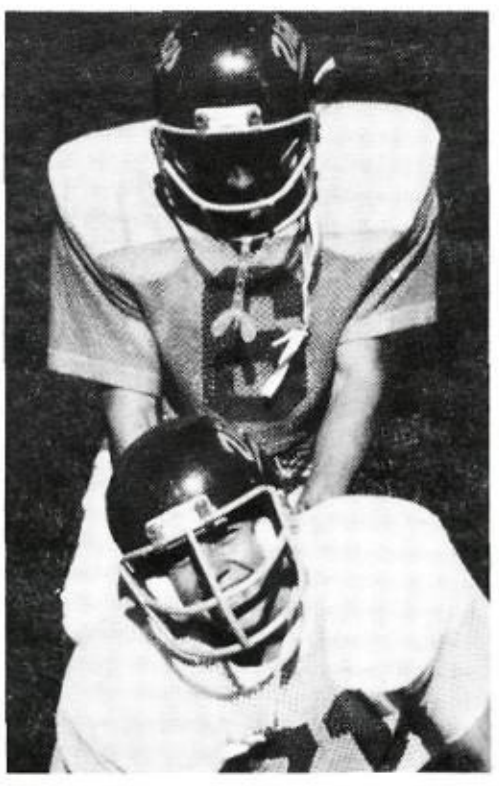


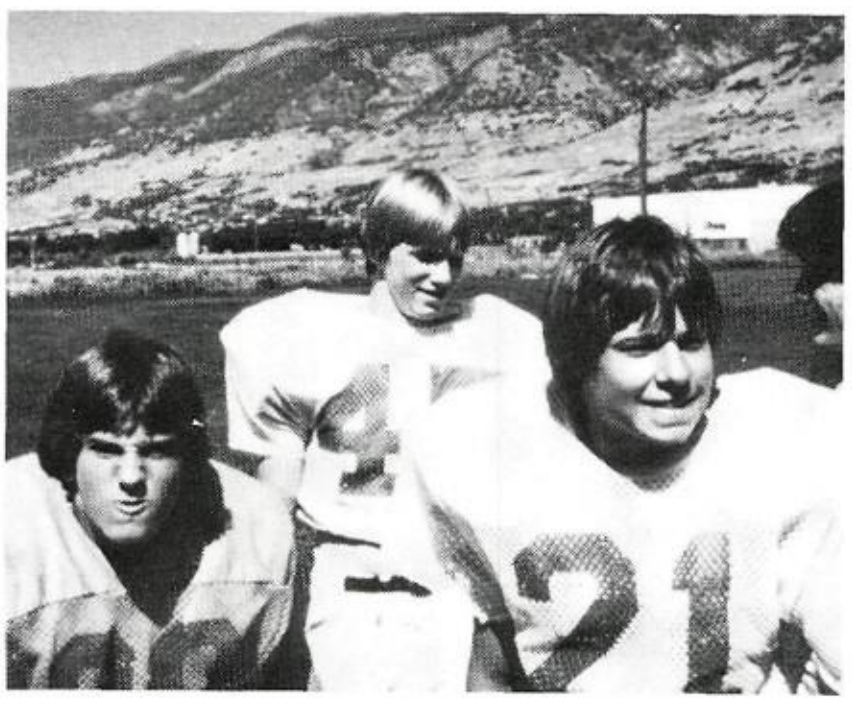
Taking the joy of past with them, The Vanirs look foreward to a new time, new place, a new victory.



The heroes have now proven themselves; no longer are they new and unknown.







The year is done: battles have been fought, tears spilt, victories gained, and new horizons reached.
